Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 11 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Rather cold, with blustery showers. Sunny spells developing Friday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Blustery showers will become fewer and further between for a time, although it will remain cold and windy. Cloudier to end the night, with showers merging and sweeping east to give longer spells of rain and perhaps hail or thunder. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Friday:
Remaining windy. Rather cold, cloudy and wet initially. Becoming brighter during the morning, with sunny spells but also further, more scattered blustery showers, some heavy with a risk of thunder. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Unsettled, rather cold and windy at first, with blustery showers and more organised bands of rain moving eastwards. Gradually becoming drier and less cold into the new week.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.